

Supportive Care Program and Palliative Care Service of St. Vincent's Hospital

The Supportive Care Program of St. Vincent's Hospital is a free program of home visiting and support for seriously ill individuals and their loved ones in most areas of Manhattan. An interdisciplinary team of nurses, social workers and chaplains is available to assess, support and help coordinate care for people with progressive and/or advanced illnesses who wish to remain at home. For more information or to make a referral to the Supportive Care Program please call 212-604-7508.

The Center for Palliative Care Resources and Referrals (CPRR) is a telephone help line operated by the Supportive Care Program and Palliative Care Service of St. Vincent's Hospital. Staff at the help line can offer information on bereavement services, social and other services for those individuals who are seriously ill themselves or their care givers. For information please call 212-604-2273.
